Agricultural Outlook Forum	Office of the Chief Economist	$186,336.00	Washington	DC	2/24/2022	2/25/2022	The Agricultural Outlook Forum provided a unique opportunity for the Department to communicate directly with stakeholders about major issues in agriculture and rural America. It was an opportunity for senior U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) leadership (Secretary, Deputy Secretary, Chief Economist, and others) to speak about the Department's plans for the coming year and for stakeholders to learn about the full breadth of the Department's work.	2,059
Soil and Water Conservation Society Meeting	Natural Resources Conservation Service	$248,949.00	Denver	CO	7/31/2022	8/3/2022	This conference was a regional and national outreach to producers, land managers and other conservation professionals regarding the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) programs and regional-specific topics, which was needed because it convened the professional society of soil and water conservationists who are NRCS staff or close partners. It included multiple training opportunities, technical workshops, NRCS-focused mission critical symposia and sessions, and opportunities for continuing education units.	125
