Message from the Director

Hihanni waste, greetings.

I would like to wish everybody a happy new year! 2022 was a year of many historic achievements for Indian Country, and we hope and expect for 2023 to bring even greater achievements.

Next week, there will be a joint consultation and listening session on January 19, 2023 on Inclusive Competition and Market Integrity Under the Packers and Stockyards Act. This consultation and listening session will be graciously hosted by the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma at the Hard Rock Hotel and Casino Tulsa, with virtual attendance possible through Zoom. There is a significant question as to whether this law regulates tribes or not, and we need tribal nations to engage and give your feedback. For more information, see the information in the consultation section of this newsletter. RSVP: tribal.relations@usda.gov.

Finally, I would like to remind you that the application process is open for its second round of the Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations Self-Determination Demonstration Projects. Applications are Due January 31, 2022. Created in the 2018 Farm Bill, Tribes administering the Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations can enter into self-determination contracts with USDA to directly purchase food of their choosing – including indigenous foods - for the FDPIR food packages distributed to their tribe. Eight Tribes took part in the first round of the demonstration project with tremendous results, most purchasing local indigenous foods for their food packages. Please let FNS or OTR know if you have any questions.

In addition, also supporting tribal food sovereignty and the ability for tribal nations to purchase local and indigenous foods to distribute to their nation is the Local Food Purchase Assistance program. Through the program, USDA partners with tribes and state governments to purchase foods from underserved and tribal producers and processors and distribute that food in a way that makes sense to their communities. These non-competitive cooperative agreements are one of the new steps USDA is taking to support tribal food sovereignty interests. USDA recently announced that the second funding cycle increases targeted tribal government funding to \$100 million to extend current projects and for new tribal applicants. Let us know if you are interested in entering into a cooperative agreement.

The dedicated staff of OTR and USDA look forward to identifying opportunities to support your goals and objectives. If you need anything, please contact OTR at 202-205-2249 or via email at Tribal.Relations@usda.gov. Please also check out our website at www.usda.gov/tribalrelations.

USDA Hall of Tribal Nations

USDA Requests your Tribal Flag for the Hall of Tribal Nations

In recognition of the diplomatic nation-to-nation relationship, between tribes and the federal government, USDA is proud to host a Hall of Tribal Nations, akin to our sister agency the Department of Interior – Bureau of Indian Affairs. Agriculture Secretary Vilsack shared a video dedicating this new space during the November 2021 White House Tribal Nations Conference.

USDA invites more tribal nations to contribute flags to this growing collection. Please contact Tribal.Relations@usda.gov to learn more or send your 3ft. x 5ft. tribal flag to:

Tribal Nations: National Animal Disease Preparedness and Response Program – Application Deadline: January 13, 2023

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), Veterinary Services (VS) is announcing the availability of up to $500,000 in funds in the National Animal Disease Preparedness and Response Program (NADPRP) to support Tribal projects in the topic areas including: Projects to Deliver Outreach & Education on Animal Disease Prevention, Preparedness, and Response; Projects to Increase Livestock and Poultry Biosecurity; Projects that Support Training & Exercises for Tribal Nations Animal Agriculture Sector Responders; Projects to Develop, Enhance, and Exercise Tribal Animal Disease Emergency Response Plans; Projects to Enhance Animal Disease Traceability for a Disease Outbreak.

USDA APHIS American Rescue Plan: SARS-CoV-2 in Animals – Application Deadline: January 15, 2023

This funding opportunity is provided to carry out the animal health provision as described in Section 1001 of the American Rescue Plan Act (ARP). Through this provision, APHIS will provide funds to address gaps in surveillance of SARS-CoV-2 in animals, determine susceptibility of target species to SARS-CoV-2, understand transmission mechanisms in different animals, develop and optimize SARS-CoV-2 diagnostics and surveillance strategies for multiple species, and develop prevention and intervention strategies. Additional details about this funding opportunity, including additional information for applicants, are available on the USDA APHIS <https://www.aphis.usda.gov/aphis/ourfocus/onehealth/funding-opportunities> website.

Biotechnology Risk Assessment Research Grants Program – Application Deadline: January 19, 2023

The purpose of the BRAG program Assistance Listing 10.219 is to support the generation of new information that will assist federal regulatory agencies [USDA's – Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service - Biotechnology Regulatory Services (APHIS-BRS), Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) Food and Drug Administration (FDA)] in making science-based decisions about the environmental effects of introducing genetically engineered (GE) organisms by techniques that use recombinant, synthesized, or amplified nucleic acids to modify or create a genome. The organisms include plants, microorganisms (including fungi, bacteria, and viruses), arthropods, fish, birds, livestock, and other animals. These include related wild and agricultural organisms.

Assistive Technology Program for Farmers with Disabilities – Application Deadline: January 19, 2023

The AgrAbility program increases the likelihood that farmers, ranchers, farm workers and farm family members with disabilities will experience success in agricultural production. The program supports projects between State Cooperative Extension System and private, nonprofit disability organizations who work in partnership to provide agricultural education and assistance directed at accommodating disability in farm operations for individuals with disabilities, and their families, who engage in farming and farm-related occupations.

Distance Learning and Telemedicine Grants – Application Deadline: January 20, 2023

The DLT Program provides financial assistance to enable and improve distance learning and telemedicine services in rural areas. DLT grant funds support the use of telecommunications-enabled information, audio and video equipment, and related advanced technologies by students, teachers, medical professionals, and rural residents. These grants are intended to increase rural access to education, training, and health care resources that are otherwise unavailable or limited in scope.

USDA APHIS American Rescue Plan: SARS-CoV-2 in Animals Tribal Funding Opportunity – Application Deadline: January 31, 2023

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), Animal Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) is announcing the availability of up to $5,000,000 in funds provided by the American Rescue Plan to tribes, tribal nations, and organizations working on their behalf to support projects in the priority areas below: 1) Address gaps in surveillance and investigation activities for SARS-CoV-2 in animals, including farmed animals, captive wildlife, free-ranging wildlife, and companion animals. 2) Expand knowledge of species susceptibility to SARS-CoV-2 to improve understanding of potential roles or routes of transmission. 3) Develop surveillance tools and strategies for the rapid detection and characterization of new variants of SARS-CoV-2 to support an early warning system to prevent or limit future SARS-CoV-2 outbreaks. 4) Identify effective interventions, and other measures to prevent transmission of SARS-CoV-2 at the human-animal interface and/or impacts to the food supply.

Development and Implementation of Healthy Meals Incentives School Food System Transformation Challenge Sub-Grants – Application Deadline: February 1, 2023

Under this RFA, the School Food System Transformation Challenge Sub-Grant Cooperative Agreement will reflect FNS' commitment to encourage the offering of healthier food products in the marketplace for school meals through engagement with the food industry and incentivizing innovation and partnerships. Increasing access to nutritious and appealing foods for kids is critical to the success of strong school meal standards. The selected Cooperator(s) will collaborate with food industry partners to support school districts, food producers, suppliers, distributors, and community partners.

Methyl Bromide Transition Program – Application Deadline: February 13, 2022

The Methyl Bromide Transition Program (MBT) addresses the immediate needs and the costs of transition that have resulted from the phase-out of the pesticide methyl bromide. Methyl bromide has been a pest and disease control tactic critical to pest management systems for decades for soilborne and postharvest pests. The program focuses on integrated commercial-scale research on methyl bromide alternatives and associated extension activity that will foster the adoption of these solutions. Projects should cover a broad range of new methodologies, technologies, systems, and strategies for controlling economically important pests for which methyl bromide has been the only effective pest control option. Research projects must address commodities with critical issues and include a focused economic analysis of the cost of implementing the transition on a commercial scale.

Crop Protection and Pest Management Competitive Grants Program – Application Deadline February 13, 2023

The purpose of the Crop Protection and Pest Management program is to address high priority issues related to pests and their management using IPM approaches at the state, regional and national levels. The CPPM program supports projects that will ensure food security and respond effectively to other major societal pest management challenges with comprehensive IPM approaches that are economically viable, ecologically prudent, and safe for human health. The CPPM program addresses IPM challenges for emerging issues and existing priority pest concerns that can be addressed more effectively with new and emerging technologies. The outcomes of the CPPM program are effective, affordable, and environmentally sound IPM practices and strategies needed to maintain agricultural productivity and healthy communities.

Food Safety Outreach Competitive Grants Program – Application Deadline: February 16, 2023

The Food Safety Outreach Program will complement and expand the national infrastructure of the National Food Safety Training, Education, Extension, Outreach, and Technical Assistance Competitive Grants Program. The Food Safety Outreach Program will build upon that national infrastructure, with a sustained focus on delivery of customized training to members of the target audiences. Awardees will develop and implement food safety training, education, extension, outreach and technical assistance projects that address the needs of owners and operators of small to mid-sized farms, beginning farmers, socially disadvantaged farmers, small processors, or small fresh fruit and vegetable merchant wholesalers. Grant applications will be solicited directly from those in local communities to include those from community-based organizations, non-governmental organizations, food hubs, farm cooperatives, extension, and other local groups.

Antimicrobial Resistance Dashboard 2022-2023 Cooperative Agreements – Application Deadline: February 20, 2023

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), Veterinary Services (VS) is announcing the availability of up to $3 million in funds in the Antimicrobial Resistance Dashboard (AMR Dashboard).

Rural Business Development Grant – Application Deadline: February 28, 2023

The purpose of the program is to promote economic development and job creation projects through the awarding of grant funds to eligible entities. Applications will compete in two separate categories, business opportunity grants and business enterprise grants, for use in funding various business and community projects that serve rural areas.

Agriculture Innovation Center Grant Program – Application Deadline: March 6, 2023

The primary objective of the program is to provide grants to Agriculture Innovation Centers that will provide technical assistance to agricultural producers to market value-added agricultural products.

USDA The Emergency Food Assistance Program \(TEFAP\) Reach and Resiliency 2023 – Application Deadline: March 6, 2023

USDA announced a $1 billion investment in the country's emergency food network so that food banks and local organizations can reliably serve their communities. Of that $1 billion amount, USDA is making $100 million available for a grant initiative – TEFAP Reach and Resiliency - aimed at helping food assistance organizations meet The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP) requirements, strengthen infrastructure, and expand TEFAP's reach into underserved communities. The COVID-19 pandemic has had devastating impacts on our nation's food systems and economy, forcing many Americans to turn to the country's emergency food network for aid. Food banks, food pantries, and other community organizations have valiantly stepped up to meet this increase in need while simultaneously ensuring that staff and recipients are not unnecessarily exposed to the dangers of COVID-19. However, some inequities within the broader emergency food network remain – especially in remote, rural, tribal, and/or low-income communities. Thus, the key objective of the TEFAP Reach and Resiliency – Round 2 grant is to: Expand TEFAP's reach into remote, rural, tribal, and/or low-income areas that are underserved by the program.
