

USDA LIAISON DIRECTORY EAST

USDA Liaisons

USDA Liaisons are key representatives, on the ground, largely at minority-serving institutions around the country. USDA liaisons are there to assist students, staff and faculty, as well as farmers, ranchers, foresters, veterans and others in the surrounding communities, learn more about and benefit from the wide range of USDA programs and services. Liaisons also develop and maintain partnerships with key USDA stakeholders, as part of USDA's efforts to step up local outreach. The liaisons are managed by USDA's Office of Partnerships and Public Engagement.
